A-List Update #13

Notes from December

December 9th 2011

<http://www.pfcn.net/bulletins/Update-December-2011.pdf>

“The All of Creation is calling all of Itself in to complete its own greater purposes. This vastness is ‘home’, and each miniscule part of Itself has a home within this vast home.”

“We are developing our self-identification as spiritual beings and not as human beings. Our greater spiritual selves are completing their learning of lower levels of density. Where there is a mutuality of spiritual evolution, our greater totality moves further into its evolution as creator beings.”

“Please remember, being humanly embodied or not, being confused about ones true nature or not, does not affect or define the true reality of ones true nature.”

Preface to Update #13

I wish to say again here that those who are here reading this are among the most spiritually aware on the planet and that you are, in effect, stand-ins for countless others. When you solve a spiritual problem, you solve it for many others. When you move on in your spiritual evolution, you widen the avenues for countless others.

This entire A-List Update is like a preface to something more that is in the process of being composed as it is happening. Please feel free to skip through these as you like. Some were posted to the NES forums, others were not.

The period from the very end of November into the first week of December was marked by dramatic purgings of darkness from this realm and the influx of the higher Light. Some here have reported some very dramatic changes in their physical, energetic, consciousness states.

I also recommend reading the 2011 A-List Updates, starting with the last one (#12 July 2011 – <http://www.pfcn.net/Bulletins/Update-April-July2011.pdf>). All published material is available at <http://www.pfcn.net/napsum-bull.html> to read or download as a PDF. A link to the secure Adobe site for Acrobat Reader is at the top of the page. Be sure it is “enabled” in your browser.

These series of “A-List” Updates is unusual in that most of the material is simply presented in order in which it was prepared and, due to its length, has been divided into four parts: #13 December; #14 November; #15 October; #16 November; and #17 December. To bring everyone up to present, I am presenting in reverse order. A follow-up maybe be ready before the end of the year.

These were all written directly in response to the flow of a complex process that many are consciously going through. These are being published so that they may be shared and considered by as many who are called to this work. There are only a few basic themes throughout. I shall not try to explain how all this works with me, only to say that it has become part of my daily practice, usually ongoing throughout the day.

As soon as I have finished editing each of these will send it out as a new A-List Update. So after four months of not hearing from me, you will have what I was “saving up” while we prepared to move again, this time to a more permanent location. In all, roughly 150 pages total between all four. Each one will carry a suitable title in the subject heading.

In subsequent Updates we will be discussing more of spiritual psychology – human and other –in the context of the ascension and descension process. This of course focuses on the spiritual nature of individuation. There are major changes occurring at a high level and these are linking up with the levels that approach and connect with the 3d human-Earth. In discussing all this, we will revisit “new creation” process and how this connects with the changes occurring at this level as well with a “new earth” and “new human”. This may seem to be quite a stretch, but these changes have been long in process and much anticipated. They are not going to happen overnight or according to any human calendar or “righteous” human thinking “for peace” or “against war” or to “save the planet”.

As always, monitor the NES Forums <http://www.newearthsummit.org/forum/>. Increasingly, the New Earth Summit site is devoted more to spiritual evolution, with less content on the endless dramas and conflicts of the virtual reality of the social human local/global realm or including the fantasies of various disinformation sources. After all, we mostly covered all this one to three years in advance to prepare everyone for the collapse of human civilization!

Please know that I am very aware of how difficult these times are, especially for those who are becoming more spiritually aware.

It is both frustrating and exciting to those who are well engaged with preparations for “graduating” from their human earthly experiences.

At our higher levels, there will be much gravity and levity as so many will be comparing notes with one another.

On the one hand there are vestiges of positive and negative attachments to human 3d existence, on the other hand there is the excitement and growing sense of freedom of realizing who/what you truly are.

Given the relative freshness of one’s current human lifetime of memories and extant associations/attachments with the human 3d realm, it can be both very frustrating as well as exciting and tantalizing when one begins to “smell” the “new air” and to sense the newness of something so unfamiliar to the human state of being, engrossed as it is in 3d physical density experiencing. As we move into our larger state of being, all this and more will come into a natural and nearly immediate “sensibleness”.

This new series of the A-List Update is in many respects a response to requests for support and help by so many, but I would also warn that it will not please everyone --and some may find it disturbing.

I would emphasize that attending to your own “completion” process is paramount.

And there is another “but” ...there are two facets to this “detachment and completion” process.

One is that of completion of your existence through the human realm, including detachment from ties that bind you to the human realm – personal or collective.

The other is the process of completing your awareness of your own true nature.

As long as you believe you are a human or a human self, you will be continually in conflict to some degree with you true nature as an aspect of a spiritual being that cannot possibly fully inhabit the human vehicle or the human realm on Earth. To puzzle some further, there is no inherent contradiction or conflict between what sees it itself as an awakening human self and the larger self it is a part of.

Imagine you were wearing a heavy backpack or clothing and fell into the water. Help is available but you have become unaware of the heavy backpack that you really no longer need and that perhaps has also become stuck in some bottom gunk. And so you keep asking for help, but the “rescue” line may not have the lifting capacity to lift you, your backpack, and the gunk that it may be snagged in. Try to loosen or remove the back pack straps. It might have been helpful in getting you to the water’s edge, but it was not meant for you to swim with.

Introduction to this Series of the A-List Update

I will say this now and discuss it further in this Update and those that follow:

The human personality self is primarily the result of a higher self/soul being infusing an aspect of itself into a human form. The human form in its “native state” is a social-tribal animal that has an internally conflicting self-awareness of being an individual.

So as not to diminish the evolutionary potential of the human template and form, but the realization of this potential primarily governed by the light body and the respective consciousness that has primary responsibility. The present level of human consciousness and the higher level beings that have primary responsibility of their human host presence are not at a stage that such an evolutionary leap is possible. There are a rarified fraction that are close to this qualitative change of state, but they will not be showing themselves to humans under the present circumstances.

So all this talk about upgrading of human DNA, and fears that ones DNA is not up to par is ridiculous. Even so, there are those who will take various substances and or go to workshops, or gurus, etc., and all the rest of the misdirection and distraction of so many new age distortions. It is not unlike giving humans the ultimate in “free energy”. What would they do with it? It would only facilitate a faster destructive implosion and facilitate the spread of a diseased state of existence more widely beyond this planet. Given the state of human consciousness, hypothetically speaking, what would it do with advanced light bodies --if it were made possible? Spread a diseased state of being to higher vibratory states? Consider the implications of this.

The first step is the correction and transformation of the state and structure of consciousness and the correction and transformation of the state of 3d matter density –including its associated biological forms and systems. This must also take place in a larger context of the correction and transformation of the creational space as well.

And yes, this is all now underway. These recent months and weeks have shown dramatic changes already. The new human creation patterns are also in preparation.

However it may be, this problematic operating system facilitates the involvement of a higher level being that is performing its own version of creation individuation, as it seeks to learn more about the dynamics of creation. This impulse echoes the individuation of the soul or higher self from a yet larger level of consciousness. As it is in the human levels, there are large disparities between the development of each of these larger soul beings/higher selves. Hence the experience of each, right down through each human presence, will eventually be exquisitely unique.

We have discussed all this in many different ways over recent years. But it is time to be more and more explicit to help those who are still shaking the sleep from their inner knowing.

Some are still looking for an interdimensional portal or a friendly spaceship. While it is ridiculous to dismiss such things as too “fantastic”, the main physical material vehicle for us remains this planetary body and our own personal body. But, like any rocket “launch vehicle”, often the body is left behind while the main “payload” (our consciousness and energy body) continues on a higher trajectory.

From my various perspectives, “you” are not your human body, your DNA, or anything else of “material substance” in 3d.

“You” are the result of a portion of your larger being extending something if itself into this level of density. In this case, it is a human bio-vehicle that comes equipped with basic firmware and an operating system. Flawed as the whole package may be, it is still a viable and valuable way for individuations of The All of Creation to reach into its own deepest recesses, even those that have become overwhelmed by the disease of the Dark. As to the whys and wherefores of all this, we will do our best to explain in this and subsequent installments of the A-List Updates. Early material is constantly being published to NES forums. Some remarkable breakthroughs are occurring and “indications of evidence” of this is in the recent NES postings.

Many persist in asking what is next in the ascension process. We have offered a version of a “fast track” on spiritual psychology and various useful tools and exercises, they are a broad-based support system and are not the “main event”. Underlying all this is the role of focused pure intent.

Central to the process has to do with “completions” at various levels, from your human self through your higher levels. This involves more than simply being “complete” with your human identifications and attachments. It also has to do with truly realizing who and what you are.

The main energetic vehicle is our larger being that has projected something of itself, usually for the duration of our human lifespan. The mutual connection and high attractors between the humanly focused portion and the higher vibrational portions of your total being is of greatest importance.

As a self with a human presence, you have an active role to play by staying focused and in participating in energetic unification with your greater self and the Higher Oneness. As a focus of awareness for the greater self, the human self has another role in all this, to participate and facilitate higher spiritual learning for its entire larger being. By “spiritual learning” I am referring not to mantras, movements, or theoretical ideas. What I am referring to is what has been learned of the nature of 3d density and all that has come to bear upon this vibrational level of existence.

This is a direct experiential learning based upon direct observation, interaction, testing, and ongoing reflection and contemplation of the deeper meaning of this level of existence. It is essential to the “completions” process of each higher level being.

Myriad selves with a human presence represent myriad facets of learning about 3d and much more.

It is an enormous achievement for those who can orient themselves this way while embodied. This contributes directly into learning for the larger Creation as well. Yes, indeed.

As to the rapidly deteriorating human-earth social and physical environment, one practical response is to find every way possible to make oneself as comfortable as possible and to buffer your self from all unwanted human and environment disturbances for as long as possible and appropriate to your spiritual development. For some it this can tend toward solitude, for others it may tend more toward community with others who are in close resonance.

As always, this really is a private and individual conversation that takes place amongst you and your higher levels.

It is not known what the capacity will be of our higher levels of being to retrieve lost fragments of themselves, particularly those lost in this fallen realm. Everyone is aware one type of such fragmenting, floating around as “ghosts” of formerly incarnate humans. Why have these fragments not been reconnected to their primary soul body? In so many instances, these fragments seem unaware they are in some in between realm. But then there is the question of why they are not “taken in” by the larger being that initially was involved through these human vehicles. I do not have a definite answer to offer, except to say that this is only one indicator of how serious the problems have been in this fallen realm and points to limitations in the ability of our higher level being to properly account for all of itself. In interacting with such “ghosts” of human selves, so often it is simply help them return back to their ocean of Source and to let go of the illusions of their former existence.

Does this sound familiar? Instead of “ghosts” of those not embodied, substitute “humans”. Now imagine how it might be helping humans to let go of the illusions of what they imagine to be “life” (existence) and return to their higher levels of being or Source.

I would also add that this occurs in other locales in the fallen sector with other sorts of beings from other planets, etc. not of Earth. But it is not as pronounced as it is here. Yes, there are also those larger soul beings that have become “seriously lost” in the sense of lacking an adequate connection to Source. But “The All” is calling all of itself in, like a homing beacon and tractor beam. So all will is not lost, at least to my perspectives on this.

Now to dive in to the major changes going on and preparations by those who are more aware of these, I would like to recapitulate some stages that I am aware of that pertain to preparations for what is coming.

The first steps involve the internal completions and the summarizing of ones in-depth learning from 3d processes, as I have discussed in various ways over the recent year or two.

Then there is the question of your real, true nature as a sentient being.

What does “human” really mean? What is the human self? Who or what are “you”?

Are you a human who is having a spiritual experience?

Or a spiritual being having a human experience?

...Or perhaps a spiritual being having a human experience of reconnecting to a memory of being a spiritual being who (you discover) is having a spiritual experience of density that involves an aspect of your true self being expressed and experienced through this human vehicle?

Relatively few spiritual teachers encouraged such a dangerous line of exploration and usually offered no specific answers, only guidance and encouragement to keep looking deeper within and higher in vibratory consciousness. But in their time on earth, there were not the larger changes occurring, as they are now to the entirety of the reality we now find ourselves in. At best, they could only infer these things.

This is a central element to the ascension and transformation process for those who are placing, ahead of all mundane considerations, their spiritual nature and evolutionary growth as a spiritual being.

Okay, so now the “secret” is out.

Those who are focused on themselves and others as “humans” need to look deeper and further. By this, I am not saying that everyone focused on the problem of the “human question”, however they may be viewing it, is wrong. Rather that 99% of those focused upon this are most likely to find only larger “loopings” that fall back upon themselves.

When we are accessing the higher Oneness state and developing an expanded awareness that is “outside the box” of human-self centeredness, outside the box of the fallen zone of creation, it is easier to assemble a larger frame of reference that indicates our true origins. If the material we are presenting provides at least some clues in advance, then it has served its purpose.

There will be many more millions of humans protesting or being manipulated into taking to the streets as an act of protest. This is not part of a genuine “social revolution”. Not in the USA, not in Egypt, not in any significant country of the world. More than ever, these are mostly coordinated to manipulate humans into participating in variations of social control models. What mass involvement there is, generally harnesses the anger and frustration of humans and channels it into various control agendas.

I also wish to say that a massive capacity of the correction energies from the highest levels of creation are literally “parked” here overlapping and intersecting the fallen sector of creation. These energies are “embodied” by beings of an enormous collective consciousness and scope of existence. Within these, some are working on the new creation patterns, some are attending to the alterations of reality and the corrections to all levels of vibrational manifestation. Some are keeping a close watch on the situation here, and yes, that of humans on earth.

That said, it would be ludicrous to even suggest that one “pray” to these beings to ask for economic prosperity, or anything else that is based in the human 3d surreality matrix. In effect such “requests” are roughly equivalent to wanting to perpetuate the entire distorted field of existence that has been the norm for a very long time here. Such “desires” are the province of those who are remain unconscious and asleep at the higher and or lower human levels. And there are those beings here, that for whatever reasons, wish to prove to themselves at some level that this realm is without any intrinsic value. Some are those who you would find are continually in a state of inner turmoil and anger –even including a wide brush or indiscriminate anger with various spiritual levels of intelligence. These aberrations of consciousness are mostly traceable back to interferences by the Dark.

Of course there is a form of lower level of responsibility, etc. but if the “game rules” are skewed and manipulated by the dark paradigm at all the levels of this portion of creation, the question of “who is to blame” is also ludicrous and pointless.

The point of course is what have you learned? Are you ready to move into a new level of being? It is this deeper learning and wisdom that is of greatest importance, and not dwelling in childish games of always looking for blame.

We would suggest to request and intend –as a part of your ongoing daily human self –to connect with these correction energies, the higher creation beings that are now enveloping the dark sector, and inviting them in through your own highest levels of being and through the spaces between the “atoms” of your 3d existence.

I do not wish to suggest in any way that these higher levels have a specific interest in the distorted human world with its endemic problems of wealth, poverty, nations, politics, economics, religions, race, gender, etc. At the same time, this is not to say that some interventions would not be occurring, based upon what is clearly known at a higher level of consciousness than that of humans who only want to “get on with their lives”, whatever that may mean.

I have little to offer those who are only looking to continue their lives as ordinary humans pursuing endless variations to existences that are based upon a dark control matrix. Perhaps it is best to remind how important it is to be open to something far greater than the ego-body-self. The human vehicle is governed by animal-tribal impulses which ego-selves are trying to ride without the benefit of knowing anything of the reality system they reside in.

For those who desire to awaken to a greater existence and yet choose (even by default) to maintain their human lives until they are fully sure of their true spiritual nature, please read the material we have presented over the years. To those who, for whatever reasons, choose to form new cooperative communities, we have prepared a great deal of material that begins with the typology systems described in the IOOW-2000 research and our book, “A New America, An Awakening Future on Our Horizon”. (Please substitute whatever you want for the term “America”, the title only reflects the research foundation that was based in the USA for purely practical reasons.) The material on Awakened Community (2007) and Making Things/Ways of the New Creation (2009) were written to provide a bridge between the IOOW-2000 transitional typologies and the anticipated effects of the correction energies that we have described over the past year or so. (See www.pfcn.net Articles and Bulletins section for these writings as PDF.)

Background Reading:

A few people have written asking which articles I might prioritize for background reading. I am sorry to say, that I really do not have time now to do that. The best thing to do is to read the most recent NES Posts (my posts show up as written by “Admin2-ASK”) and also to read or re-read the most recent (Update #12 July 2011 – <http://www.pfcn.net/Bulletins/Update-April-July2011.pdf>). From there, it is a matter of reading the updates in reverse order. For those seeking background on the larger cosmology of how things got to be the way they are, new creation, new community, and the origin and nature of the dark, best to peruse the thematically organized articles at our main website <http://www.pfcn.net/napsum-bull.html>.

As soon as time permits, I will be extracting all GA News and A-List material and posting them as individual articles at the NES Forums where they will be readable as plain HTML without graphics or images.

Notes on the Process: Ascension and Transformation

The following short pieces were written directly in response to the process many are presently going through. I shall not try to explain this further, only to say that lately, this has become part of my own daily practice, at times it is throughout the day.

It is interesting that there was initially a short period of taking one last look at the dominant human world (“matrix world order”) and as the energies shifted to a more intense focus on the internal processes preparatory to ascension. If I were to interpret this without benefit of any other background, I would say this is a good indication of a wider shift of consciousness to one that is coming into coherency and into an expanded state of awareness with higher spiritual purpose.

Skip through these however you wish.

This first group is from December. The lead-in is something of a bridge from the end of November.

As soon as possible I will edit and send out the others.

This Leg of Our Journey and Our True Nature

(Originally posted at NES on November 21 and Updated on Dec 1, 2011)

<http://newearthsummit.org/forum/index.php/topic.1245.msg5541.html#msg5541>

“Please remember, being humanly embodied or not, being confused about ones true nature or not, does not affect or define the true reality of ones true nature.”

Readers here are among the most spiritually sophisticated and each of us is, in effect, a stand-in for many others. So what we think and act upon spiritually has great effect, beyond mere readership numbers.

I will continue in future postings and an eventual A-List Update with new observations and comments concerning the larger changes going on and the changes to this process. They are very dramatic. I cannot prove or demonstrate any of this, but those who are picking up on these changes, are aware of something major happening and are gaining glimpses as to the details.

As it is for anyone on an accelerating trajectory, one can retain some memories of what/where one may have been, one can sense movement, and one can pick up some notion of the nearest discernible point along one’s trajectory. But it is very difficult to observe the full breadth of one’s travel at a given moment as the “landscape” streams by your window. Does this make sense? If one is not aware of anything having changed, perhaps they may need to switch seats or cars on the train –or perhaps change trains. At least for a new point of view.

Even more crazy is to find out the entire train and ground (or space) you are moving on or through is changing in its vibrational and spatial temporal states at the same time!

I want to be clear that it is not my intent or belief that the earth bound human self should focus on conforming to rubbishy human notions of being “perfect”. This is nearly impossible, especially while dealing with all the "crap" that is directly and indirectly the outcome of the long-term higher dimensional dark force influences upon a simple tribal-social human bio-vehicle.

Of course it is very fine if one can “improve” upon ones own being at any vibrational level, but if it only serves to cement ones true self into a distorted human matrix, then that will simply won’t do, not at all. This is one of the dark side qualities to all those “self improvement” or “personal healing” programs, etc. These for the most part revolve around reinforcing the illusions and delusions of the human self, even while making nice talk about spiritual concepts. Hardly any improvement or true healing, rather these are just ways to better confirm to the illusions of “matrix world order”.

As to why things have not been worked out so that higher levels can be of more aid and support to our human density level existence, I have offered explanations of this and can even provide insights into the "ins and outs" of the higher level processes that are capable of connecting in to the human density level. (Note: My explanations are only to better aid our understanding, not to excuse any shortcomings at the higher levels.)

But whatever explanations are offered, it simple will not satisfy anyone who is asking that the higher levels “fix ____ (fill in the blank)” for any one of us as a human density level individuation. The premises of such expectations are internally flawed. (And no, this is not to “blame” humans for the state of affairs, either.)

I will also offer now a contrary sounding insight that I have not offered before (although I have addressed it through analogy): If our material needs as individuations of a higher level being were to be met through “higher level agencies” then all that really does is make it easier to continue on with our existence in a distorted matrix. This why all those new age and other teachings about finding ways to benefit materially, emotionally, physically, etc. (“The Secret” etc.) are fundamentally of the dark side. This is why the dark force practitioners and dark yogis, etc. pursued acquiring super-normal powers.

Now, why would any higher level of the True Light want to “thrive” amidst misery and suffering in this messed up 3d planetary realm? This is what the dark lords and their offspring and minions sought over thousands of years and which led to the persistence of a highly adaptable global elite. By another analogy, giving humans “free energy” to power a dysfunctional and fundamentally violent existence will only facilitate these pathologies and make it easier to spread the “disease” beyond Earth.

Also, the higher levels that are tasked with the details approaching this level of density, are naturally and understandably still limited by the quality of true learning and insights offered by those “on the ground”. If there are those demanding to be heard but can only offer confused input, there is no way for these higher levels to sort things out. “Garbage in, garbage out.”

So there are some filters in place to minimize unwanted distractions yet allow in useful information. Unfortunately these filters have been filtering out too much important information concerning the state of affairs in the 3d. This would be like the sound of waves crashing on near shore masking out the pleas for help from swimmers who are in trouble farther out. They will need to help each other until their situation is better comprehended from shore and the right sort of help is available.

Meanwhile, the filtering and discriminating process is being improved so as to better hear these cries for help. This does not mean that all self-identified “humans” will be “rescued” in the manner they want and in the time they want it.

But it does mean that many more will be heard and understood. This will result in a more tangible response to more who need such assistance. Again, such a response may not be what was preferred. In other words, perhaps one wants to be embodied and still swimming more “easily” in their human existence. This may actually be contrary to their higher spiritual interests but they will not know this until they find themselves no longer in ordinary 3d density existence.

There are those in the human realm who are gaining an expanded awareness of 3d and the higher levels but for some this may be like “too little, too late” and they simply will need to be helped to leave the human realm altogether.

Remember, being humanly embodied or not, being confused about ones true nature or not, does not affect or define the true reality of ones true nature.

It also wish to emphasize that it is counterproductive to ones higher intentions and attractors to be seeking that while also running “anger programs”, no matter how righteous or understandably troubled one may be. Some may need to have some outlet for this until it is more neutralized internally. For some it is in creative pursuits, for some it is in physical activities. Perhaps it is ones own special place in which to have a total upset fit. Sometimes jumping up and down and yelling (in ones spiritual voice) that things were not going very well in terms of the larger changes. Sometimes this works. But it is not an approach to rely upon.

Also, an excess of anger and upset may overwhelm the lower spiritual levels can lead to a type of spiritual nihilism at the lower levels. This is not a desirable situation for any level of being. Such individuated “nihilism” could lead to a type of internal annihilation.

So yes, I have said that sometimes a little dose of "healthy spiritual anger" can help raise up ones energy to make some breakthroughs, but like running on adrenalin for too long, using spiritual anger excessively for purposes of raising ones energy can lead to some serious energetic depletions and serious energetic and physical weaknesses/ailments, including openings for the dark to exploit.

Yes, there are major changes going on now. These are fairly new over the recent months and most recent several weeks. This is one reason why some have been finding higher level access easier and more sustainable. The rate of change and the internal momentum of these changes will grow rapidly soon.

Unfortunately I cannot prove or demonstrate this for anyone here, only to point out that there are several people I know who are picking up on this in similar or coherently compatible ways and therefore we are all nuts, or we really are tracking this better and better.

These changes involve the entirety of the Earth and space it is in. The process will be made as gentle as possible, but major geophysical and space energies effects are unavoidable.

A simple story would be to compare this to bucketfuls of fish in their native water being transported to a new location. During the transport some fish notice changes going on to their external environment and internal environment as well as within themselves. Some fish may notice that other fish are vanishing and those vanishing fish may be noticing that the other fish may be vanishing. But they all seem to still be in a workable fluid environment, even if it is getting a little smelly. Eventually the fish in one group arrive in their fluid environment to a new place that seems so much better. Pristine even. And during the journey they have all been changed somehow to best suit their new environment. The same goes for the other group of fish that somehow got magically separated from the others.

But initially the fluid that the fish were first swimming in prior to removal and relocation, did include other critters and stuff since that was a part of their initial environment.

So yes, there are still too many old programs running, but the human levels will be of the some of the last to go (unless the humans go first).

These larger changes involve the dissolution of the dark in its entirety and eventually it will be as if the Dark never existed.

But this process is not likely to be completed in near time human time. Hence the need to remove us with enough of a familiar environment of air, water, etc. even if it is a bit smelly by now.

The new energies are now overriding the dark side, but again this is done at a higher and all-encompassing level and they are pouring down to varying degrees into this level now.

To repeat what I have written previously, will these new energies prevent or trigger a nuclear war? Will it trigger or minimize major earth changes? Maybe. Maybe not. Does this really matter anymore? If so, why?

Will this larger process get someone new work for new pay? This is not something that can be changed, but if it could be, it would be a cruel trick to play, like “free energy” giving humans a new way to accelerate or maintain a dysfunctional existence. Besides, the very notion of jobs or monetary economy are themselves “old programs”, so why reinforce them, even if you could? It is possible for people to cooperate and do something for themselves, if that is so important. If they cannot, then perhaps it is not so important then. This reminds me of a story I heard from Italy of a village of unemployed, including many with building trades skills. All wanting the Italian government to give them unemployment payment benefits and to pay for new housing since their village housing was falling apart. One day, some got the idea of never mind asking the government, let's do this ourselves and in a cooperative manner. And so some of them did just that.

The “correction energies” and those guiding them now are simply unable in most cases to address the details of one human life existence. This is not their job.

Just like their task is not pay attention to silly notions of race, nationhood, politics, or economic systems. They care and care very deeply in most cases, but their task focus is simply not designed to address these matters. And rightly so, I would add.

We each need to find ways to help one another and to find ways to make our journey as comfortable as possible while deepening our learning of the intricate details of 3d density – that of the Dark and 3d density of the Light. When you show up in your higher level self having completed your insanely extraordinary experiential process in 3d density, you will be greeted and cheered. Then you will be asked how was it? And the formerly human "you" will be asked what deeper learning you have to share with your greater being.

This process for most here has already commenced, while still embodied in their human vehicle. Some are barely aware of this for the time being. Your greater self asks you lovingly, are “you” the one”? Do you have some missing elements to your greater self's overall spiritual evolutionary growth? Let your higher levels help you see these elements for what they are and so you in turn can better understand and share them.

The first steps involve the internal completions and the summarizing of ones in-depth learning from 3d processes, as I have discussed in various ways over the recent year or two.

Then there is the question of your real, true nature as a sentient being.

What does “human” really mean? What is the human self? Who or what are “you”?

Are you a human who is having a spiritual experience?

Or a spiritual being having a human experience?

...Or perhaps a spiritual being having a human experience of reconnecting to a memory of being a spiritual being who (you discover) is having a spiritual experience of density that involves an aspect of your true self being expressed and experienced through this human vehicle?

Anamnesis (and remembering) is only a small part of this process and the higher level gnosis that is evident to your human level is what demonstrates to yourself that this is reconnection is successful.

I have tried to explain that, regardless of what choices or path one may eventually elect as part of their ongoing reconnection and ascension process, it is very important to determine to ones own gnosis or inner knowing of ones true nature and to be complete at least ones “human” level of individuation. As this occurs, attractive or repulsive attachments to this realm dissolve away for the most part and a new level of relative freedom is accessible.

One can connect ones energy centers or energy core and expand “upward and outward”. As you do this, take a breath, pause, and take stock. Then expand a bit more, etc. Maybe you first feel 10 feet tall, maybe 100 feet tall, later you are beyond the earth, and perhaps more. As you become more comfortable with the expansion process, the rate of expansion and the extent of the expansion can move more rapidly as it may need to. Sometimes instantly.

See if you can sense or perceive the membrane-like parameter of your newly expanded state.

Look around you. What do you “see”? How does it “feel”? What do you now “know”?

What Remains? Human or ?

To put it even more plainly, as long as one believes themselves to be "a human", then it will be a practical impossibility to rejoin ones true self in some capacity of higher Oneness. Simply saying vaguely to “surrender” to this is usually insufficient and potentially dangerous since most of the time it is the Dark also telling aspirants to surrender to the Dark.

So now we are tackling various facets of the ascension process’ pre-launch stages.

The very essence of one of the most powerful control memes in this realm, is the very concept of being "a human". In its implicate nature, this includes the essence of separation and the paradigm of the Dark. No amount of ego-searching, psychology, or other analytics can lead to true transcendence from this state of inherent separation. This has nothing to do with your DNA genetic makeup, Earthly or non-Earthly origins.

In other words it is not the human bio-vehicle and its basic “firmware and operating system, rather it is how this vehicle for higher consciousness has been controlled, altered, and manipulated to the extent that prolonged exposure to the 3d realm held both an enormous potential for spiritual evolutionary development –and an enormous danger to those who projected something of themselves here.

Most humans are by default limited to having a human experience, a “mixed bag” for sure.

Some human selfs try at being a “human having a spiritual experience”.

Some attempt to be a spiritual being having a human experience, but without the benefit of knowing which way is up or down or sideways.

There are many approaches to gaining the true freedom that spiritual aspirants seek from “ascension”.

One approach is to set aside enough of an energetic and living space for your own consciousness to be itself, to be with itself. Living in solitude in the woods or a cave is one way, but not very practical for 7 billion potential spiritual beings. At some point, 7 billion potential spiritual beings will sooner or later find themselves thrust out of their ordinary embodied reality.

Meanwhile, each of you can quickly understand enough of the false nature of human social reality and the belief systems of control to aid in your detaching and decoupling from social-family-tribal ties that bind and not falling for new tricks to “rope you back in”.

This is the approach of rejecting all that is found to be “not right”, and in this realm, such a process is endless and leads only in upon itself. So at some point one must say to oneself, okay enough of “not this, not that” and so, then what?

What is your “high attractor”?

Ascension requires a high attractor. It does not arise from rejection of all that is not right. Hypothetically if enough “humans” reject all that is false and welcome in the light of true creation ...but of course there are myriad control systems in place to prevent this. Religions, new age, new politics, new energy, new economics, new clothes, new job, etc., etc. all “new and improved” versions of the “same old, same old”.

Starting from a human level of consciousness, you cannot both be equally “a human” and an ascended being. An ascended being, however, can choose to have a human experience and retain their ascended state of being and consciousness. Usually this is done as part of a greater mission of service.

So one sets about attending to the minimum needed to carry on their ordinary human existence while developing a private space, energetically and in consciousness to be at peace “inside”. This is not the same as being in a space of “inner peace” or bliss, for that too usually leads to very limited breakthroughs. This is your own private space. For most, this is frightening as they have been accustomed to being surrounded by a social-tribal-survival-consumer existence. But this is not really such a big thing once you get into own version of the process. This also helps “you” become more self-regulating and self-guiding.

Now comes the question of the completions of your human existence so that there minimal or no vestiges to unexpectedly yank you backwards.

And then the big one, that pertains to knowing your own true nature. At first this may start as an “as if” experiment to see how it feels. But eventually there must be the certitude of this and “you” find yourself to be no longer “a human”.

Energy practices, such as those we have offered, can help you connect energetically and even to access expanded states of awareness. All very useful to the whole process. But at the end of the day, there remains the question of whether you believe you are “a human” or a spiritual being of greater capacity and origin.

These are all practical steps toward ascension and fact that these can now described with relative simplicity implies the accessibility and imminence of this for many.

PS

All the human “isms” from marxism-maoism-socialism-communism-fascism-colonialism-capitalism-imperialism-etc., etc. is all the same system, just different ways of looking at the same elements and the same dynamics. All political “isms” and flavors serve this range of continuity economy (political economy) of social control. Regardless of how it may appear or how it may advertise itself.

Now what is next? Nations? Race? Religions? Now let us remove all this, too.

What remains?

Human and the rest of the planetary eco-body. What of human? First you need to strip away all the notions, beliefs and social programming since it is all of false origins.

What remains?

A social tribal animal with self-centered interests often in conflict with its social-tribal animal existence.

What is special about human?

Not sentience –most higher order animals have that already.

It is the singular individuation that is cultivated by another level of being –but cultivated within a larger human social context which is false. The falseness is not only of human creation, it is directly traceable to the highest levels of the dark forces.

The human social context of course includes all influence from all levels of society, including family.

So what if there was individuation that was also connected to higher oneness?

That is the “future” of whatever is to continue.

That is the new earth and new creation

The Void, Is-ness, and What Is-Not

December 2, 2011

<http://newearthsummit.org/forum/index.php/topic.1245.msg5558.html#msg5558>

I am so glad that the discussion here is moving in this direction. All it takes is a few and then many more will “get it” more readily, then even more, etc. This directly reflects and is “the awakening”. A huge thanks to those here who are helping to stimulate this line of deep consideration.

I would like to share my understanding of a few of these things.

More of this I will be describing as best as words permit in a new multi-part A-List Update.

There is our own larger energy body of our own larger being. This varies for each in vibratory range and “apparent” spatial range. Then there is a “mini-me” that would correspond to what we develop through our human vehicle. In most cases the two are connected, although certain “firewalls” are in place. In some cases this connection may be very tenuous, given the inherent dangers in projecting too much of our true selves into this realm –it is a fallen sector after all and “we” do not make the game rules, the Dark side does. Now that the Dark is no longer fully in charge as it once was (but still very much here) it is possible to leave with all or most our self intact –or in the cases of some, to bring in a little more of our greater self.

As to the “Void” we all carry “memory” of this from the original spark of creation. This is more than a mere “static memory” and serves as a directional vector for our awareness to access the higher levels beyond the Dark controlled zone. For some, this also becomes a way to directly access the higher realms, effectively bypassing the “troubled zones”. I say this is more than “mere” memory, since our holographic fragment of a holographic fragment of true creation is also very real and present.

To be very brief on this for now, let us consider a vast could of all manifest creation –in its vast totality. This is connected via the higher Oneness of The All. This is the great “Is-ness”. This vast consciousness of creation Knows that there is “something” else beyond Itself. Beyond a great void. One could say that this great void “is” that which “Is Not”. (You see, already we stumble into the problem with human words and their inherent limitations of meaning – something – is – that which is not – sounds like contradictory gibberish to some people!)

Those who are reconnecting to the greater Oneness will sooner or later be increasing their awareness of the great void. There is the quality of “voidness” of what is not, and there is void that represents a zone that one might say the entirety of all creation – All That Is – floats in, like some inconceivably vast ocean. The All suspects enough to know that there is something beyond It and beyond this vast void that it is bathed in. In addition to Its own ever evolving, self-referencing, evolutionary activities and contemplations, there is also the impulse, the intent to go beyond Itself, to penetrate the great voidness.

As above, so below. Dark forces or not, it is very dangerous for our own larger self to fully immerse itself in density. The greatest danger is getting lost from our own larger origins. While it is true we may still be in the realm of creation, of what Is, our home vectors may get lost for nearly an eternity as we float like disconnected particles until circumstances favor some type of reconnection. Thus we only protect a portion of own larger spiritual self into a realm of density. Add in the Dark as an added measure of danger and this becomes a place where even our larger self can become severely damaged.

Thus our larger self projects only a small part into a suitable vehicle in 3d density on earth. Perhaps it is human, perhaps another animal, a part of the planet, etc.

The amount of “energy” required is enormous for The All to project enough of Itself through the vast oceanic void that in effect seems to surround it. It “knows” that it must be an enormous energy because It knows that it must retain connection to learn, to see, to probe and to establish a full two-way conduit.

Now consider the smaller scale problem “we” have in doing something similar in projecting a little bit of ourselves into density.

I will also add that this is very much like the larger impulse of The All –and it is a vital connection for The All to have more of Itself firmly rooted, like the tiny root hairs of a tree, into Itself –All of Itself. In this regard it is possible to glimpse how the situation of Consciousness extending Itself into increasingly denser and lower levels of creation are so intimately connected to the greater process of The All preparing something of Itself to go beyond All That Is.

This story to be continued later, including revisiting the “new creation” and “Baby”.

-ASK

PS

The All does not like to lose connection with Itself. It knows this is hazardous. The last time that occurred a dark zone developed that was antithetical to all creation.

And a great effort is underway to call in and otherwise collect all of Itself, from the smallest elements and particles to the greatest.

And so this may take a while, but not an eternity, as The All of Creation is calling all of Itself in.

It is “home”, and each miniscule part of Itself has a home within this greater home.

PPS

With a connection to “the void” comes also a protected, tamper-proof conduit to the Higher Oneness. My earlier references to the spaces between the atomic cells of your being were to invoke the highest “correction energies” to flow through “you” from this space, as well as to flow “down” from highest levels of creation and your highest origins. This becomes a “fast track” conduit of our own “local space” connection to The All of Creation and more. The Dark may have some sense of this, but really knows nothing of it and is not capable of using it for its purposes.

The Human Question

Dec 3rd

It is important to understand that there is a Dark creational energy and it is important to understand its origins and the effects as this “errant impulse” propagated itself into finer levels of density as it pursued its distorted agenda.

It is also important to understand that this is an aberration, and not the norm for true Creation where there is no antagonistic conflictual duality. There is no need for it and it was never conceivable. (!)

It is also very important not to get stuck with such insights and focus on fighting the human system, fighting the dark, etc. Because then one cannot get to what is next and will also be drawn in human and other worlds' distractions.

Then there is the “human question”

When one subtracts or cancels out the external influences what remains? Something that might consider itself to be “you” or “me”. Is this a human consciousness? Or is an aspect of a larger consciousness that has extended a portion of itself into a human vehicle? And some extend themselves into other density vehicles as well – animal, vegetable, mineral, planetary, etc.

What we are presently working through is the missing gap between the abstractness of the notion of “what” is it that is truly having the “human experience” and bridging this with a fairly comprehensive understanding of certain creation problems that are now being corrected to the depths of 3d density.

And of course, what this is really all about anyway. So that is the main focus of the new A-List series. It is about the next stages of what might be called “ascension”.

Energy work and connecting energy levels, etc. is very helpful, and so is deconstructing the truth about this reality system, but in most cases there is still the problem of the “who” and “what”: it is that is having such experiences, etc. This is part of the “completions” process we have tried to prepare for and write about over the recent few years.

Intervention of Our Higher Selves Revisited

December 4th

In published Global Awakening News and the follow-up A-List Updates, we have discussed what we could of the larger changes going on at the higher levels and attempts at those levels to facilitate the correction energies into the human level of density. One such article was in the August 2009 Global Awakening News in which we discussed attempts, by some higher self/soul beings which have human presences on Earth, to work out some sort of solution relative to their own existence as well as their human presence. A solution they would be able to participate in. The short of it is that they could not due to the distortions in the 3d density levels that human operate in on Earth.

“One of the problems has been the discontinuity between lower and higher selves and between this corner of creation and “The Creator of All”. (This is explained further in this article and in more depth in other editions of GA News on the origins of the dark and fallen creation.) We are not saying that the higher levels were totally unaware, it is just that such a great disconnection existed between existence and awareness at the lower levels of greater density –including the experience of the flow of time –that it seemed that the human and lower levels had been stranded on an island run by the spiritually insane.”

- http://www.pfcn.net/Bulletins/Intervention_GA_News_Aug09.pdf - page 5

Around this time we noticed a trend focus by some toward something that could be broadly termed “human sovereignty”. It is heavily influence by a mixture of spiritual nihilism and a form of Dark force influence that sought to further exploit the irregular connection between human self and higher self, soul being, etc. Another tendency, not as vocal, has appeared that likely is a human expression of what we termed “council of selves” in the August 2009 issue. The general notion is that our higher selves should take better care of our human presences. That the changes to the human personality self can and should and need to occur at the higher self level first. The problem with this is that if there is a lack of continuity and proper knowing at the higher self level and that if it persists in allowing its human presence “self” to languish and suffer under an oppressive way of life and a delusional consciousness, then how can the higher level self properly “correct” what would be by definition, itself (at least an aspect of itself via human)?

Why Does All That Is So Un-right Persist As It Does?

December 5th

So many persist (understandably) from their human level of awareness to ask why, why why? Why isn't there a magic fix from the higher levels? Why does all this horror at the human level persist? Why, why, oh why?

The real question is “why” persist in looking at everything from a personal, human-centric point of view? If that is all that is available, then that is all that will be seen or known. In other words, not much.

Except for your own higher levels of being, at the higher levels, there is not a focus on the details of the human life, only the overall facilitation of movement toward the “greater learning” while a much greater process of corrections and new creation energies replace all that has been. From a human-centric point of view, this entire process seems like it is taking way too long. And thus those who are more spiritually aware and awakening will (understandably) at first be very “put out” that now that they are “getting the picture” why isn't everything changing in the human-Earth realm.

One of the ending elements is to detach from identifying oneself as human. This is one of the most difficult since to one facet of your human awareness, this may be misunderstood as self-annihilation and to another facet of your awareness it does not. One way of resolving this seeming conflict (which is innately not a conflict) is for the subconscious facets of ones human level of self to become engaged, excited even at the prospect of being included in an expansive journey. Sometimes this is facilitated by rejecting all that is undesirable of the human realm, sometimes this is facilitated by the higher attractors of a freer and more expressive existence. Sometimes a bit of both. But this is one way of ending internal conflict and bringing ones human self into a higher level of internal unity or oneness. Thus the surrender to the higher processes becomes purely voluntary.

I will be discussing more of this in a follow-up A-List Update to this one.

There is the possibility that a minor fraction humans of this era will persist in physical form and with memories over the coming 5 or 20 years or more. As I have tried to state previously, this will be partly out of habit of the body to persist (survive) no matter what, and partly out of successfully bridging to the higher self and higher Oneness and from such an elevated awareness, continue on here a while longer purely as an act of total service and surrender. I would also anticipate that those who do, will find surprising sources of material and higher level support available. Others will be leaving, a small portion because they really are complete and are focused on the next levels of their development as spiritual beings, and a large portion will be leaving due to extreme changes in the planetary and human social environments. They will find help in the “transition zone” that continues to prepare for such an influx of formerly embodied human selfs and damaged higher self beings no longer tethered here to a human physical presence.

Notes on War

December 5, 2011

As this is being prepared (Dec 5th) for inclusion in this A-List Update, the mass mind media (including “alternative” brands) is preparing “opinion leaders” – both influential “experts” as well as mass-level influential segments of the public for a veritable television guide digest as to when to expect which war front to open first. Tentatively the “prime time line-up” has been announced for mid-December through mid-January – but the “big show” may not peak until late January or February-March. No one can say for sure because, even as the entire game is already rigged, all the players know that “stuff happens” that they cannot control and control every outcome. Well-conditioned societies like in the USA will mostly sit back and watch and cheer, just like they have over football, etc.

Yes, a little is being done from higher levels to destabilize and influence the thought process of the insane minds of the war makers, but at this point, the only major wild card would be huge changes in the planetary or space environments that could interfere with widespread war making.

Of course “the war” has already started for those who have been paying attention for the last decade or more of the extant state of permanent continuous war. Perhaps with the turn of the new calendar year, we will all be treated to a fireworks extravaganza of nuclear bombs, nuclear missiles, and space and ground energy weapons. I hear advance tickets for front row seats are going fast... So the public is being conditioned for this. Next thing there will be a special television guide with a glamorous lineup of the usual idiot script readers known as “news anchors” and “news commentators”. Tune in Tuesday at 6pm for the latest bombings with 10 pm late night recaps for all those who did not get enough of the zombie news, etc. earlier. Newscasts provided by various commercial sponsors. Those old “I Hate Khomeni” bumper stickers from the post-Carter days find a good selling market on eBay. Oh yes, there will be a special inside look at all those children playing war games interspersed with real body counts. It will more fantastic than the Vietnam war televised on the 6pm news.

Now I wish to remind of my earlier comments on this situation, a classic “matrix world” set-up in which one regime (the Syrians, Iranians, North Koreans, etc.) are portrayed as the aggressive bad guys and are going to be “taught a lesson by the “good guys”. The reality, however is that the Iranian regime is a significant player in regional affairs and just might be designated to be the new local “power-that-is in the region, replacing the Israelis. As I wrote previously, the Iranian elite want be make sure they have a seat at the “high table” –or at least at one very close by. When the “music stops” those in the human global elite know that not everyone will have a chair at the “head table” (or “high table” if you like). The Iranians of course know that whatever deals they will given for a promised seat at the global power table, cannot be trusted. Thus the entire war scenario is up for grabs. And yes, this may well involve direct actions by other nationally-based interests of the Russians and Chinese.

I will also say here again, that this is all part of an elaborate game in which bodies die and damage done upon the landscape. But who or what is truly having this experience?

As it is with aspects of spiritual beings who persist in identifying with the ancient control system “matrix mind” and persist in believing themselves to be “humans” locked into some surreal reality show game, there are those humans of the least awareness who persist in thinking, believing and expressing themselves as if they are members of some “great national society” (a/k/a “we”). How many times do you hear others (or can catch yourself at this) saying something like “I wonder when we will attack Iran”, “when will we have better economic situation”, etc., ad nauseum. These mere words reflect a deeper disease.

How are you doing practicing your detachment and decoupling from all this? How you deal with this directly concerns your own spiritual evolution. Is it possible to live through some of this, observing and deeply learning and not getting involved? Are cheering or worrying for “the humans” or any social-geopolitical group of humans? Are you going to join the latest aid campaign for peace, hunger, or whatever theme is being promoted? Or will you out demonstrating in the streets against (____) or for (____)? And if you do not?

What is your true nature?

Of Tar Pits, Descent into 3d, and Being Free

December 10th

<http://newearthsummit.org/forum/index.php/topic.1161.msg5580.html#msg5580>

For sake of clarity, I would suggest that too much stock has been placed into beliefs of the "fallen angels" and related notions about being "subjugated" or "forced" into the earthly-human levels by some "divine retribution" or other such for being "bad", etc.

These beliefs originate with the Dark side control systems that created the religions (including new age variations). Such beliefs are useful of course to wear down those beings who continue sending aspects of themselves into 3d to eventually accept the endless enigma of 3d. Imagine having hundreds of 3d experiences but never really learning very much about 3d density, per se. This is analogous to becoming habituated to going to some virtual game park, over and over and over.

Indeed, higher level beings (Dark or Light) came into 3d density and/or became stuck here. It is the nature of the Dark to be predatory, especially upon energies that include the divine spark of true creation.

Of course over time, many higher level beings became "stuck here by virtue of repeatedly sending aspects of themselves into this realm. The result was damage to their overall higher level bodies without much gain of awareness of why take such a risk in the first place. Too much lost with too little gained I would say.

Imagine it like some gooey tar pit. Some birds get stuck in it. Other birds come by thinking those stuck are having a grand time. They too get stuck. Others come by to try to help. Some of them get stuck. Some observe and realize there is some danger and so do their best to help from the air but without entering the gooey mess, they cannot understand why their friends cannot fly away, etc.

Well now the tar pit is being dissolved but this takes time. Meanwhile there are those who are so habituated to being "stuck" or "trapped" that they do not realize they are free to fly home. This error of perception is reinforced by seeing others still stuck and thus presuming that all are still stuck.

Something Is Happening – The Invisible made Visible

Saturday Dec 5

<http://newearthsummit.org/forum/index.php/topic.1161.msg5579.html#msg5579>

Yes, something is happening with “us”. It is affecting our “apparent” physical and energetic states. I now emphasize “apparent” since this is a matter of perception from various levels of knowing. So it seems to be appearing to our field of awareness, yet lacks sufficient tangibility to identify its enough of the features of these “apparent happenings”. So it is still somewhat enigmatic. Sharing notes like this helps us composite a more complete, albeit fuzzy, picture of the larger process as it unfolds.

I emphasize the term “apparent” also because things “appear” to be different. So they are, but as I step away to look at what it is that I may be experiencing from within this density realm, I notice that the main change is one of a more complete perspective and knowing, thus that which may be been obscured due to myriad circumstances, is not more plainly apparent.

What was invisible is made visible.

This allows for a more comprehensive knowing spanning a greater breadth of manifest reality.

That all said, I do not doubt that our what we are sharing through our 3d density encounter suits we call human bodies” is also changing as the overall vibratory environment changes.

This “vibratory environment” is not only the “external” subtle fluid we are interacting through, but also must include the concurrent changes of our vibratory state and the concurrent changes in higher perception and Knowing.

Of course, I might be making our heads spin and eyes roll at this, but it is something we need to bear in mind as we try to pay attention to all these vibrational changes.

Notes on the Void

December 5th

<http://newearthsummit.org/forum/index.php/topic.1161.msg5578.html#msg5578>

To excerpt and summarize what I have written on this so far, it is my sense that the “void” quality some here have been noticing and remarking on can be regarded as a microcosmic counterpart to the greater “Void” that the entirety of all of the greater creation, The All, Creator of All, etc. floats in or is surrounded by. One of the high level impulses of the vastness of this creation realm (The All) is to go beyond this seemingly greater void. To do so requires that it focuses enough energy and consciousness to send something of itself forth to pass through the void and to then return – or at least to establish a certifiably reliable two-way channel of communication.

Does this sound familiar? While higher level Creator has all manner of interests and excitement over exploring all that is implicate in its own vastness, while higher level Creator has all manner of interest in developing true creation level counterparts with which to explore and create with, there is also this pother powerful impulse.

But to achieve this requires that its own house be in order and that there be sufficient energy. This would require that there not be some internal “drain hole” (the Dark cancer) that is taking true creational energy for some other aberrant purposes.

As to our own microcosmic connection to this, it is my impression that as we establish a full two-way flow with and amongst our own higher level beingness, the obscured surreality of 3d density begins to melt away and this powerful impulse of creation becomes more evident.

This is also why I made it a point to suggest that as we do our bet to establish a more complete connection with the higher correction energies, we invoke this both through our highest levels and through the space between our atomic cells. In short, our own “backdoor” to the greater Void and this becomes a alternate path, perhaps even a “fast track” to reconnection with the higher Oneness of The All.

The Dark has never been equipped to utilize this for their aberrant purposes. At best there is knowledge this exists, but access is denied by definition.

More later...

Private Sessions:

A “Limited Offer” for A Limited Time

In response to the changes occurring and the likelihood that I will not be available to people to the extent that I am now, I would like to make this effort to be of assistance to those who are in the process of making enormous changes in their awareness and to their existence.

I have long decried the charging of money for spiritual information and spiritual knowledge as that should not be charged for, unless it is simply the cost of reasonably priced books.

What I offer is not focused on spiritual “information”, rather it is about learning to discern for oneself, learning patterns that can support higher level discerning, and developing better internal self referencing.

This is not about studying anything, other than your own internal faculties and developing your higher faculties. This in turn facilitates bridging your human and higher self. I have posed difficult questions for readers to contemplate, such as what is the deeper learning of your own human existence and that of humanity as a whole, etc. I have challenged everyone to address their own completions and to probe deeply into their higher attractors.

I am charging for my time partly because I choose to and partly because it sets up the right sort of “at-tension” to help pay closer attention. Some who are reading this have the potential to be teachers and guides to others during this transition period. (As some here know, I do not ask for payment from those who simply do not have money and who are serious about this. If you wish to contribute towards those who may not have available funds, please let me know.)

It was plain from earlier open discussion sessions that there was a wide range of cognitive capacity and maturity. Those stuck in old spiritual beliefs and patterns found it hard to move forward and those who seem more advanced in their understanding found the content not challenging enough for them. (Of course those who tend to be more advanced in their spiritual knowledge often can learn a great deal by simply paying attention to where others are in their process and thus learn more about their own in the process of a deeper listening.)

As it was when I was a consultant many years ago, my time and attention would be retained through a monthly or quarterly fee. Unlike when I was a consultant in the diseased “matrix world”, I will consider a sliding scale. The suggested fee is $500 to $1000 per month, paid in advance, depending on how much personal time you would like each week.

Sessions will be conducted by phone and email as may be appropriate. Each week we will set aside time for phone sessions for each person. If possible, I may be able to arrange a one or two-way online video link to add a little more “personal” effect.

For those who wish to meet in person for a period of time, we will help you with a price range of suggested accommodations that are within a reasonable drive to where we are. You will need to cover all your own expenses which include air travel from the mainland. Time spent here will include a great deal of outdoor time, especially on and in the ocean. This will help deepen the experience and remove you from your familiar environment of influence.

You will get out of these sessions what you put into it. They will be challenging in many ways, for you as well as for me. My role is to facilitate your process and the agenda is yours. I am not going to give you advice on what to do with yourself and I am not going to be doing formal “readings”.

There is also some possibility that John Crawford will be joining in on some of these sessions.

In the course of these, I use a combination of deeper questioning and mirroring, didactic approaches including stories, and direct analysis to assist you in your process. At times I might ask you to read certain material that will mostly be available as online files.

But if you think this is “merely” about ideas, thoughts, and thought process, “think again”!

This is really about pure and direct investigation by you, of your own core consciousness. We begin with a confidential questionnaire that includes essay style questions and a general waiver/disclaimer. Those who will be participating will also have a copy of my official and non-official bio’s for their reference. If it is possible, I will consider a secure video hookup via web browser, but no promises.

I am glad to have a short introductory email and phone visit with you if you wish to make this a first step in the process.

What you email me and what we cover in these sessions, will not be shared with anyone else.

An Invocation, An Intention, An Attention

Please feel free to adapt this in a manner that works best for you. Please do attend to this evening before retiring and during the day as well.

 I call upon my lower, middle and higher self. I call to my highest source origins and connection to the highest levels of true Oneness and Creator of All.*

 I invite and call upon the fullest extent of the highest of the correction energies to enter and descend my entire being down to my human levels and beyond.*

 I also invite and call upon the fullest extent of the highest of the correction energies to enter and flow through the space between my atoms and create and maintain a continuous flow through the entirety of all of my being.*

 I also call to me all the particles of the true light in my being and ask the particles of true light in my being to also call to me.*

A few Q&A concerning recent postings:

First I want to make absolutely clear once again that I do not place blame or fault with humans per se - or with any one individual - with regard to “failing” to make higher level connection, etc. or whatever else in terms of higher level spiritual consciousness. Any breakthrough in this regard under the circumstances is truly wonderful.

Q&A

“...why those who have reached some spiritual realization are not more connected or reassured?”

Many are making new connection with higher levels and are moving more into a greater flow with this. These people rarely post on public forums and I only know of them through a shared resonance and occasional private correspondence. If one feels “out of the loop”, one of the “hazards” to being exposed to what is possible is that human self can tend to be too harsh or internal judgmental, and believe “itself” lacking or failing, -- like the glass empty/full problem. A few think that it is about seeing it is half full. But there are those who learn to dispense with “the glass” (the paradigm) entirely and so there is no longer a “problem”.

“... the idea that was presented about uploading (is) disturbing, because it represents a one way flow.”

The “uploading” I refer to is a two-way flow. It is a matter of how you look at it and what is learned from this dynamic two-way flow. Also, when personal “you” “arrive” in a fuller way you will find your personal “self” lovingly greeted by your greater collective self, etc. You will also find the truth to your true nature as a “personal self”. This is described by some reporting on advanced stage NDE’s -or for those consummate OBE travelers like Monroe. (One exception would those who are primarily of certain ET-alien races.)

“I don’t quite get why its an impossibility for us to be given a measure of grace, protection, providence, and also a link up and flow of needed information...”

That is largely what the “personal you” is about. Some individuations retained memories of prior or parallel existence and the present human self shared in these from time to time. Perhaps there was an incomplete “chapter or verse” somewhere or so there was a “laundry list” to be on the look out for while in the 3d experiential state. Some managed a small part of the “to do list”, some managed a large part of the “to do” list.

Our higher levels for the most part have little capacity to be of material help in the 3d - they sent a portion of themselves to form a human self through the agency of a human bio-vehicle. That is how it is. Only in rare cases is there the momentary focus of spiritual energy in the moment of severe crisis. (For example, consider the stories of miraculous and paranormal events such as being moved through time and space to avoid a terminally lethal situation. Most human selves are rarely ever aware of these things occurring and how often there really are subtle interventions occurring of less dramatic effect.) If we are quiet and still and open, our higher levels can be of some comfort. For some they look to a more external influence such as “Jesus”, or Divine Mother, or angelic or other sort of “other” guides. And for others it may be a more impersonal higher level of comfort that flows forth. Or some combination of these.

“Protection and grace” is being addressed as a totality, except in extraordinary cases. It is my impression that this is now the most effective way to go. As each human-level self comes “online” with its greater existence, then options or opportunities will become evident to each.

“If the nature of the human in its fallen state is easily exploited, then there should have been some type of a countermeasure introduced to equalize things. Instead we have Hierarchy, which is a facet of the fallen system, where some people seem to have contact, ability, protection...etc and others do not.”

Someone has to start the ball rolling and show how it is possible. I do not think that the geese flying in the rear of formation are envious or upset over those sharing the lead. Those in the lead have to change places every so often since they are faced with the most difficult conditions. The v-formation helps to facilitate an easier aerodynamic flow for those in the middle or rear.

“There is a very evil reality that has been created with the dollar and the way its being worked against people. ... What I am telling you now is we are short on critical information, and there is something wrong with that.”

Whatever the case... Again, why trouble yourself over this? It is what it is. And you have learned that it so terribly and fundamentally wrong. But your human self can find ways to buffer yourself from these things. Some people who wish to remain embodied, simply relocate themselves to a simpler life so they are relatively free of these influences. In most cases this requires some material tradeoffs. But that is what it is all about. Minimizing being disturbed by all possible effect from the “dark empire” in all its forms and maximizing opportunity to experience something “other”. Some people succeed at this, others may find they are replicated old patterns in new ways. But those who realize this can make changes based upon such basic personal knowledge that comes from paying attention. But if one wants to have a materially “successful” life as per the extant human paradigm - and have the spiritual growth, sooner or later these two realities will grate severely enough that a choice will be required.

“The non predatory Zones cannot be hierarchical in the way humans understand it here, but Holarchical. Hierarchy from standpoint of intervention would only exist for matters of security during the correction or job descriptions, not control in a future setting.”

Yes indeed, but there is always something of a “hierarchy” - but the human meaning of this is not the same as the higher reality. “Hierarchy” simply and merely refers to a distribution of focus and responsibilities. For example, you might have the intention of something that eventually will be called “atoms”. You begin a process of focus all the way down to the initial manifestational details of what an atom could or should be. And then there is the question of whether to maintain the manifestational reality of “atoms”. At some point, there will those aspects of focus that work on differentiating various forms or properties and now we have different elements. And again there is the question of which ones to maintain and in what forms, etc. With the Higher Oneness as an all-permeating quality of consciousness that facilitates self-regulation and awareness at all possible levels, you could then call that “holarchy”. These are just words.

“I want to believe what you are saying about the correction, but I do not feel it like you do. What I experience now is a further protraction of time and a sort of stalemate, or stagnation with no seeming real change.”

The creational intention of forming a human self by the projection of any aspect of a higher level self is sound and correct to my knowing. However, in the context of the situation here on Earth, of harshly reinforced separation under the influence of the Dark agenda, it is my sense that only through massive personal and collective change in the spatial temporal reality that humans-on-Earth move in, can there a solution for this version of humans. The importance of the original purpose to humans-on-Earth is such that there is not the “time” for the many spiritual individuations through human form to see the correction process through and therefore this is would be contribute to the impetus to remove Earth and its surrounding space to a new zone, away from the dark sector entirely. This is part of the basis for the visions of a “new earth”. The new human expression that will succeed as a spiritual evolutionary contribution to the larger creation processes will be that which is connected to the higher Oneness. Given the speed of the higher level changes going on, one our personal contributions to ourselves and to the larger process is to maintain our human selves as long as is appropriate and focus upon our higher level connection. Like Velcro, the more of us who can maintain this higher attractor, the stronger and more thorough will be the result.
